who commanded that regiment when he was killed. These charges embraced allegations of ill treatment of the men of his command and were accompanied by a resolution of the House of Representatives of the Nebraska Legislature requesting a complete and thorough investigation of the matter. General Otis, in response to orders re-ceived by the War Department, immediately set on foot such investigation. The inspector general who made the investigation states in his report that he personally inter-viewed every officer in the Nebraska regi-ment on duty with it and all other officers detached from it who were accessible, and sed the substance of the charges and ution to each company and the hand. He also visited the hospitals and in all officers and men to express their ersonal sentiments as to the merits of the charges and their personal opinion of Col Stotsenburg. The statement says: "The consensus of opinion as obtained from the several sources completely exonerated Colonel Stotsenburg from the odium upon him by these charges which; under the strong light of the impartial investigation, dissolved themselves into comfaints of a character naturally resulting om men unaccustomed to strict army discipline and methods in a foreign land where their environment perhaps rendered them iliarly susceptible to the feelings that they were being treated harshly and without regard to their well being." The inspecseen an overwhelming majority of the officers and men of the regiment, either directly or by natural inference, stronly condemn ind refute the charges and cordially indorse Colonel Stotsenburg's administration both as battalion and regimental commander, and that not one officer or enlisted man expressed the opinion that it would be for the best interests of the regiment to relieve him from its command. Finally, he states "the charges therefor receiving practically no support or sympathy from the men in whose interest or on whose behalf hey purport to have been preferred, fall the Philippines, a novel argument has been the unconditional surrender of the insurgents. They have sent a resolution into the interior, which reads, in part, as fol-

"Would to God that the Filipnos might learn a lesson from the sad history of the Confederate States of America. The Confederates were defeated by land nd sea more completely than were the Spaniards, and after four years of most bitter and bloody fighting they surrendered unconditionally. Their land was laid to waste and the country is still behind other sections of the United States in prosperity. "We have certainly shown our patriotism and bravery, and surely our honor has been satisfied. We have nothing to gain and everything to lose by the unequal struggle. We have a group of a thousand islands, inhabited by $,000,000 people. They have 80,000,000 now and 8,000,000 blacks, as well able to stand the tropical climate as Filipino America is generous, as is shown by the treatment of the Confederate States after surrendering. Let us give up. Already there is a party in the Union that favors giving us liberty, but that only after American honor has been satisfied by our complete defeat."

The only reason why I wish to be relieved of the duties pertaining to that committee is that I have enough other work to do. I have my hands full with other affairs which I must attend to myself. Senator Jones is very much of the same frame of mind, and if he thought he saw a chance of being relieved he would resign.

SERENO E. PAYNE STILL HAS HIS EYES ON THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Unwilling to Concede General Henderson's Election-George W. Steele Not Yet on the Band Wagon.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, June 3 .- Representative Steele has been joined here by Representatives Payne, of New York, and Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, and the trio will foon be on the way to Alaska. They expect to be gone two months. Mr. Payne withdrew from the party when he announced his speakership candidacy, but he now feels that he can safely absent himself from the centers of political activity without seriously jeopardizing his prospects. He stoutly maintains that he is still in the race, and gravely states that he does not yet concede the eection of General Henderson. He says many things may happen between now and the meeting of Congress to disarrange plans of members and entirely change the complexion of affairs. Any way, he has nothing to lose by quitting and throwing up

Representative Steele talks cautiously about the speakership question. He is slow to admit that General Henderson has the fight won or that his campaign is sufficiently far advanced to cause a stampede of uncommitted members for the Henderson band wagon. As for Indiana, while careful not to prophesy whom the state delegation will declare for, he says it is too early for any candidate to assume that it will be began to-day. President E. A. Munger, of for him. It will be time enough to assign a piace for the Indiana members when they give formal notice. While at the War Department he arranged for five Napoleon guns and some captured Spanish ordnance for the Soldiers' Home at Marion, Ind. ### NEW YORK'S KIDNAPERS

MR. AND MRS. BARROWS, OR WILSON, MAY NOT BE TRIED AT NYACK.

Bella Anderson, Alias Carrie Jones, the Nurse Who Had Charge of Marion Clark, Held in New Jersey.

NEW YORK, June 3 .- Sheriff Blauvelt, of Rockland county, came to this city today to consult the police authorities regarding the case of the Wilsons, or Burrows, who are in jail at Nyack charged several of Mataafa's chiefs, who promised with the kidnaping of Marion Clark. Owing to the expense which the prosecution will entail on the taxpayers, there is said to be a strong sentiment against holding the prisoners in Rockland county. If the prisoners, who will be examined next Monday at Garnerville, should be held for the next grand jury, they will have to remain in jail at Nyack for at least four months, as the grand jury will not meet again until October. Sheriff Blauvelt served a subpoena on Captain McCluskey to attend the hearing in the case in Rockland county next Monday. Subpoenas were also served for Sergeant Morris and Detective Herlihy. Capt. McCluskey said he supposed everybody connected with the case would be subpoenzed. When Bella Anderson, alias Carrie Jones, was brought for examination in the justice court at Summit, N. J., to-day, Detective Sergeant Price, of the New York police force, asked that she be delivered to the New York authorities at once. The justice refused to give up the prisoner without a requisition from the Governor of New York. An order was signed committing Bella Anderson to prison at El zabeth to await the arrival of extradition papers. The prisoner would make no statement to-day regarding

Mrs. Jennie Wilson, or Barrow, who is locked up in Nyack, is the daughter of Mrs. J. J. McNally, of Goshen, N. Y. Her father is the proprietor of the Goshen News, a weekly paper, and his daughter has at times assisted him in the conduct of the sheet. When ill, some time ago, she had charge of the paper. By many persons she is believed to be slightly unbalanced. Mrs. McNally is particularly well connected, being a sister of George M. Beebe, who until recently was a judge of the Court of Claims. Jennie left home about three years

It was learned to-day that "Mr. and Mrs. Wilson" had been living at 13 Varick place in this city, which is the Mills House Annex. Wilson's right name is George Beauregard Barrows. He was to-day positively identified as Barrows. With the Barrows family at the Mills House lived a girl by the name of Bella Anderson. Wilson, known at the Varick-place house as Beauregard, told the hetel people that he was a reporter on the Evening Journal. Bella Anderson, who answered the description of Carrie Jones, the nurse, left the Varick-place house three weeks ago. Wilson's wife left ten days ago, at the time the baby was stolen, and Wilson was last seen there last Saturday. Four years ago, under an assumed name of James Arthur Wilson, Barrows married in Jersey City Addie Margaret McNally, daughter of an editor at Goshen, N. Y. Since then he has been employed as a detective in a Broadway store, in the circulation department of an evening paper, and was one of Captain McCullagh's election deputies. Recently he drove an elec-

Mr. and Mrs. Barrows and Bella Anderson were great friends. Mrs. Barrows was for a time given a place in the Mills House restaurant, and Bella Anderson also worked there. As the description of Bella Anderson fitted that of Carrie Jones, the nurse girl, the police believed they were one and the same person. The statement of Carrie Jones, or Bella Anderson, last night proves

ING FOR THE WHITE COLONISTS.

Factional Feeling So Strong that Malieton and Tanus Will Never Be Able to Live in Harmony.

June 3.-When Admiral Kautz issued his proclamation of April 23, directing Mataafa and his followers to keep beyond certain defined limits around Apia, the prescribed district covering an area twelve miles long and six miles broad, followed by a notification to Mataafa that unless the rebels were outside the prescribed limits in twenty-four hours fire would be opened on them wherever they could be reached, this ultimatum brought about an immediate and S unconditional compliance with the admiral's | 25 directions. From that time up to date there | +? has been no conflict with the rebels. Capt. Sturdee, of H. M. S. Porpoise, accompanied by Rev. William Huckett, of the London Mission Society, as interpreter, paid the rebel camp at Falenla a visit the day following, and in order to avoid mistakes in the future went over the boundary line with to keep the peace until the commission had had time to act. The district which the rebels have evacuated is quite large enough to supply food to the Malietoans in Apia, and thus one of the great difficulties of the naval authorities has been overcome.

Since the rebels went to Falenia a strong patrol of 700 or 800 men daily make the round, seeing that all is quiet and that no looting or damage is being done by the Malietoa followers. Several cases of looting have been reported, and where it has been possible to find out the offenders have been severely punished. The damage caused by the "friendlies" has, however, been very small in comparison with that caused by the Mataafans, not one-twentieth part. The large fort at Lotopia has been destroyed by the Malietoans, and it is reported Mataafa is highly enraged at this, claiming that in the event of his wishing to return to the same after the commission has made known its decision, he ought to have been allowed to do so. In the meantime he is building forts inland at the town of Falenla and his followers stoutly declare even if the commission is unanimous against him, he will never acknowledge Tanu as King and will fight it out to the bitter end. These assertions may be only talk, but as far as can be judged here the question of the king-ship does not seem to lie within the scope

Tanu has been publicly crowned by the American and British authorities here and has been saluted with royal honors by both the Philadelphia and the Tauranga on the occasion of his coronation and of his formal visit at the war ships since the armistice has been in force. His chiefs and Tamasese, the Vice King, are carrying on the government in a way that performs all functions of a good and stable government, and they are in possession. Tanu is king de facto, as well as de jure—and, in addition, there are now in Apia 3,500 male adults carrying 2,700 rifles, supporting him. This means absolutely half of Apia is at present supporting the King of Apia. Mataafa is likely to be a disappointed man, and although a personal friend of his who had an interview with him a few days ago says Mataafa is preparing to accept the inevita-ble at the hands of an unanimous commission, he will never submit to a minority even though that minority be the two greatest nations on the earth. Farcical no doubt to most people, but serious indeed to the few white residents of these islands. In the meantime the rebels are strengthening their positions, sending out messengers for their sympathizers to come and join them, and are busily engaged manu-facturing cartridges. Deserters from the Mataafa camp say on the occasion of the Falk's last visit to Saluafat some rebel chiefs went off to the ship and asked for a supply of ammunition, but the same was refused them, to their great disgust. The loyalists, on the other hand, are fortifying their intrenchments around Apia and are being daily drilled and instructed by officers from the different warships. A four-inch gun had been taken from H. M. S. Torch and is now mounted in shape and position to command the whole of the western portion of the municipality. The great question is will the commission order the disarmament of the natives? If they do it is the opinion of almost every white resident that the islands will no longer be safe to live in any many declare if the natives are to retain their rifles, never mind what other solution of the Samoan question is made, they cannot and will not live here with their wives, families and property at the mercy of the factions.

Thanks to magnificent weather, a splendid supply of water and fresh meat daily, the troops are in the best of health and officers and men alike, now that they are ac-customed to the islands and to their work, are all looking splendid.

In certain carnations they think they have just what is wanted, and next season it is predicted that where once the ragged, brilliant, but unodorous chrysanthemum reigned, the spicy, fragrant carnation will take its place. In anticipation of this, one prominent grower within the city limits has given over fully two-thirds of his greenhouse space to carnation culture, and produces in quantities pure white and rich crimson flowers, fully as large as the once ali-powerful Jacqueminot rose. Such as these, however, will be as expensive at Christmas time as American Beauty roses.
